

Imagely galleries

Description

Yes, it is possible to send photos directly from an Imagely gallery to a print fulfillment company . Imagely, through its NextGEN Gallery and NextGEN Pro plugins, provides automated print fulfillment capabilities. You can sell prints and digital downloads directly from your WordPress website, with the print orders being automatically fulfilled by print labs like White House Custom Colour \(WHCC\).

Hereâ??s how it works:

1. Integration: Imagely integrates with print labs like WHCC to enable automated fulfillment.
2. Setting up e-commerce: Within NextGEN Pro, youâ??ll need to set up e-commerce features, create a pricelist based on WHCCâ??s print catalog, and associate it with your galleries.
3. Client orders: Clients can order prints directly from your website, and the orders are automatically sent to WHCC for fulfillment.
4. Automatic fulfillment: WHCC will print and ship the prints to your clients, using your studioâ??s name and address on the package.

Essentially, you can create a seamless print selling experience for your clients by integrating Imagelyâ??s print fulfillment feature, enabling them to order prints directly from your website without you having to manually process any orders.
